Jean-Louis Arcand, Ph.D.

Adjunct Professor, International Economics, Graduate Institute, Geneva

Courses:

Global Economics, Global Political Economy

Jean-Louis Arcand is a professor of International Economics at the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies in Geneva, Switzerland. He received his Ph.D. in Economics from Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Cambridge, MA, USA. He is associate editor of the Journal of African Economies and the Revue d'Economie du D?veloppement, Founding Fellow of the European Union Development Network (EUDN). He was assistant and then associate professor at the Universit? de Montr?al, and professor at the Centre d'Etudes et de Recherches en D?veloppement International (CERDI). His research centers on the microeconomics of development, particularly in West Africa and the Maghreb, with a current focus on the impact evaluation of social programs. He has been a consultant to the World Bank, the FAO and several national governments. Jean-Louis Arcand teaches in Thunderbird's Executive MBA-Europe program.

About Thunderbird:

Thunderbird is the world's No. 1-ranked school of international business with more than 65 years of experience in developing leaders with the global mindset, business skills and social responsibility necessary to create real, sustainable value for their organizations, communities and the world. Dedicated to preparing students to be global leaders and committed global citizens, Thunderbird was the first graduate business school to adopt an official Professional Oath of Honor. Thunderbird's global network of alumni numbers 40,000 graduates in 147 nations worldwide. The school is sought out by graduate students, working professionals and companies seeking to gain the skills necessary for success in today's global economy.

www.thunderbird.edu

Educating global leaders who create sustainable prosperity worldwide