

Larry Lipsher '65

Laurence E. Lipsher is an American CPA who has specialized in taxation in Asia for 41 years, and lived in China since 1990. A past president of the American Chamber of Commerce of South China, he is the author of the bi-weekly Asian Tax Review for U.S.-based Tax Analysis and has been featured on CCTV, CNN, and CNBC. He works with a long list of businesses, professional athletes, rock stars and just plain folks on tax issues in nine jurisdictions of Asia and the United States. Lipsher is one of only a very few foreigners to have been licensed to practice as an accountant in the People's Republic of China.